GOV. COLQUITT
VISITOR IN WACO

[By Associated Press]

Waco, Tex., June 8.—Governor O. B. Colquitt mixes politics and patriotism in his trip to Waco today. The politics was his visit to the leaders gathered here in connection with the State Central Committee meeting, and patriotism was his work toward securing the silver service for the battle ship Texas. Only $2,750 is needed to complete the purchase price of $7,500 for this service. The Young Men's Business League of Waco, which has been the Governor's chief assistant throughout the campaign for silver service funds, has a report ready today and hopes to lay the matter before the Governor in such a way that he can soon advertise for bids for the service.

Make Uniforms Invisible.

New York, June 8.—With the country hovering between peace and war, the idea of an invisible uniform sends a thrill through the country. Albert S. Cox has demonstrated the uses of such a uniform, saying "the history of such military uniform is a history of criminal ignorance. Efficiency should be the only military test. Play for the feminine eye has cost the lives of unnumbered thousands of soldiers. It has taken a number of centuries to emerge from scarlet and purple, and white and black coats to olive drab. But olive drab, an excellent color, may yet be improved. The almighty has clothed bird, beast and reptile with marvelous protective coloring suited to their environment. Most military operations take place in woods, fields or in wild country where more or less foliage is growing. All of the places are covered by many colors and tones, fluttering lights and darks, and among these complex surfaces a flat of color of uniform tone becomes the best of targets, and such are the military uniforms of all history, ancient and modern—the best of targets." Mr. Cox recently demonstrated to a reporter and staff photographer his device, which is a mottled uniform, practically invisible among fields, woods and in wild country, at a distance of one hundred yards. In fact, the reporter passed within ten feet of Mr. Cox, while he was leaning against a tree trunk, and until addressed did not know anything living was near him, despite the fact that he had previously seen the uniform, and knew that Mr. Cox was hiding from him and his companion.

Mrs. Mortimer Singer of London recently made a balloon flight of 200 miles.
